Sustainable Fladbury

Turn leftovers into new adventures

Did you know that reducing food waste is one of the easiest ways to help the environment and save money at the same time? Every time food is thrown away, the water, energy and resources used to grow, package and transport it are wasted too.

Family Challenge: This week, make one meal using ingredients you already have at home before buying anything new. How many items can your family save from being wasted?

Small changes from lots of families can make a big difference for our planet. Together, we can help build a more sustainable future for everyone.
